Dedication

We, the Senior Class of Cordova High School of '57-'58, dedicate this edition of the CRIMSON-BLUE to Cordova, the industrial heart of Walker County.

We deeply appreciate the confidence and interest shown us by the townspeople throughout our high school career. We wish to thank them for all the support and encouragement they have shown us.

To show our appreciation for all the help and co-operation that the city of Cordova has given to aid our class projects, we wish to dedicate to you, Cordova, this edition of the CRIMSON BLUE.

Class Prophecy

My wife, my son and I are making a visit to Cordova. I can hardly wait to find out exactly what all my former classmates are doing, these days. Quite a few years have passed since 1958, when we said "Goodby" to dear old Cordova High.

Well, well, here we are in Cordova, and there is the Old City Hall. Who is that I see coming out the door? None other than the Mayor of the fair Metropolis, Jerry Lewis and Secretary, Shelby Black. Still reminiscing, I look up to behold Cordova High, perhaps dimmer by the passing of time, but still much as I remember it. As I walk into the principal's office I am shocked to see Don Williamson instead of Mr. Hudson. I learned that Louise Stacks was now the teacher of Home Economics, and that Julia Stepleton was now the Senior III sponsor.

As I walk down the street, I see Wythe Fine running a red light. He is in a hurry to reach Dovertown to see Carole Estill before Carl Franklin gets there. Some triangle.

Continuing on, I see a sign, "Be popular--Learn to dance now." I peek into the window to find that Dickie Waldrop and Betty Sanders are now choreographers for the Dixie Doodle Dancers. They are: Ticia Gammon, Marie Ferguson, Joan Worrell, Mary Dunn and Peggy Gilbert.

To ease my restlessness, I sent my wife and son to the Sportsman Club owned by Jimmy Abel, who is assisted by Charles Martin and Gary Rosser as bouncers. I stroll to the end of the street where I entered a large modern movie studio, owned by Jerry Morrow, who has an able director, Billy Aldridge.

I decided to tour the rural area in an air conditioned bus, running from Frog Aggar to Cane Creek Bottoms. I entered the station to purchase a round trip ticket and found the ticket seller to be Shirley Sargent. As I boarded the Bus and took my seat I discovered the bus driver was Kenneth Banks. The bus had been chartered by the Frog Aggar Lions Basketball Team coached by Leland Glaze and trained by McKinley Taft. Leland informed me that he had a rising star by the name of Larry Corcoran. Crossing Cane Creek I saw a large houseboat, and was told that A. J. Posten had now become a commercial fisherman.

At the end of our journey I stopped at a souvenir shop, which was owned by Mary Anne Huggins and Barbara Jean, now selling Elvis Presley Albums exclusively. I began to inquire about some of our former classmates. I was told that Troy Windsor was now owner of Cordova Water Works. Lecil Wylie is now a General at West Point. Larry Buchanan and Emons Thomas are architects, at present designing homes for Betsy O. Gilbert, Vera Davis, Mary A. Windsor and Violet Carmichael, all who are professional singers. Gerald Burnette is a Lieutenant in the National Guard. My greatest surprise came when I found out that Shelton Naramore was a college professor.

Returning to the fair city I discovered that my wife had visited a beauty salon owned by Mary Ruth Hyche, assisted by Duane Watson and Dee Ann Short.

Visiting the City Hall to bid farewell to Mayor Lewis, I find the city now has two marriage counselors by the names of Marie Sherer and Doris Barton.

Here I learned that classmate Ann Hyche had become the owner of a chain of theatres across the country. I must now return to my dentist office in Pine Tree, Iowa, but this visit to Cordova will live forever in my memories.

J. W. Fowler, Class Prophet

We the Senior Class of Cordova High School being of sane state of mind (only a little crazy) declare this to be our last Will and Testament.

Jimmy Abel wills his "All County" Patch to Phillip Sularin.
Billy Aldridge wills his place in the concession stand to Lester McGuire.
Doris Barton wills her dimples to Etoice Reed.
Kenneth Banks wills his school bus to Neil Akins.
Shelby Black wills her Democracy notes to Joe Sargent.
Jerald Burnett is just going to leave us. (we hope)
Larry Buchanan wills his quiet ways to Larry Crocker.
Violet Carmichael wills her sweet ways to Bobbie Blankenship.
Larry Corcoran wills his ability to get out of class to Tim Puckett.
Mary Dunn wills all the fun of CHS to all future seniors.
Vera Mae Davis wills her title of "Mrs." to Margaret McGuire.
Carol Estill wills her silly laugh to anyone stupid enough to take it.
Karl Franklin wills his class ring to Billie Sue.
Wythe Fine wills his appendix to Dr. Camp since he already has it.
Marie Ferguson leaves her seat in Democracy to some poor senior.
J. W. Fowler wills his ability to make outrageous noises to Jerry Plummer.
Ticia Gammon wills her quiet ways to Mary Key and Frances Kendrick.
Betsy O. Gilbert wills her cheerleading experience to Joan Bennett.
Peggy Gilbert wills her ability for doing everyone's typing to Johnnie Jones.
Leland Glaze decided to keep his basketball jacket.
Ann Hyche wills Senior financial worries to the Senior Class of '59.
Mary Ruth Hyche wills her height to anyone who needs it.
Mary Ann Huggins wills her Elvis Presley records to Barbara Wakefield.
Barbara Jean wills her title of "Class Favorite" to Jane Reed.
Ronald Jent leaves his football pants to his brother, Tommy.
Jerry Morrow wills his title of "Bones" to Bobby Mitchell.
Jerry Lewis leaves nothing, Katie Tatum took it all.
Charles Martin wills his ways with the Jasper girls to Clyde Pittman.
Shelton Naramore wills his title of "Biggest Flirt" to Rayburn Brown.
A. J. Posten wills his English book to Ronnie Perkins.
Gary Rosser wills his football jacket to Linda Campbell.
Betty Sanders wills her title of Senior Beauty to Evelyn Barton.
Shirley Sargent wills her personality to Joyce Ballenger.
Marie Sherer wills her title of "Cutest Girl" to Faye Key Herron.
Dee Ann Short wills her Walker football jacket to Linda Kelly.
Julia Stepleton wills--No, she had better keep it for future use.
Louise Stacks wills her football programs to anyone that can sell them.
Emons Thomas wills his title of "Class Grumbler" to Bill Brown.
McKinley Taft leaves his old school bus to its future driver Jerry Hyche.
Dickie Waldrop refuses to part with his ability to sleep in class.
Duane Watson wills her bottle of peroxide to Barbara Nations.
Don Williamson wills his appetite to Don Willingham.
Troy Windsor wills his job at the Water Plant to any good swimmer.
Lecil Wylie wills his title of "Big Wheel" to Bruce Russell.
Mary Ann Windsor wills her title of "Miss Homecoming" to the Seniors of '59.
Joan Worrell wills her title of "Most Studious" to Linda Jacks.

Class History

In 1946, we, the senior class of 1958, began our school career at Indian Head School. Our teachers were Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Ruddick, and Mrs. Birchfield. Our principal was Mr. Raymond Faught and our janitor was Mr. John Smith.

Some of us were not very eager to start to school, or we surely didn't appear to be because we cried for several days before finally settling down. We attended school at Indian Head for three wonderful years.

The next year we went to Bankhead School, and enjoyed the feeling of being nearer to our diplomas. We felt grown-up at Bankhead, because we put on small plays and helped decorate for the Halloween parties. When we were in the fifth grade, our candidate won the title "Harvest Queen."

The last year we attended Bankhead was our happiest. Some of our classmates were now members of the newly organized high school band. That year we also made the annual trip to Montgomery. Then came the biggest event of all the years at Bankhead, our graduation exercises. Everyone was excited and wondered what to wear. We now felt older and more important because in the next school term we would begin our high school career.

In 1952 a new phase of our life was opened. We left grammar school, the school we had become so accustomed to in six years and began high school at the Cordova High School. This year our class was enlarged by students from the Barney Elementary School. Our teachers for our first year in high school were Mrs. Farris, Mrs. Barton and Mrs. Guthrie. Although we didn't win a place in the sponsor race this first year in high school, we all worked very hard and, enjoyed every minute of it.

In the ninth grade we all felt different, because this year many new changes were made. We had all new teachers and we changed classes at the end of each period, just as the upper grades did.

In the eleventh grade we all watched the seniors eagerly because we knew we had only one year until we would be seniors.

At last the dream we had been striving for became a reality. We were now seniors. This year, for the first time, we won the sponsor race, with Miss Mary Ann Windsor as our representative.

Memories of the past twelve years will remain with us, the seniors of nineteen hundred and fifty-eight, for the remainder of our lives. We will especially remember the help and guidance we received from each of our many wonderful teachers. We will also remember the help we received from the community and from our parents. I am sure many of these memories will follow us into the future and will help us become strong American citizens.
